

EDITORIAL

Even at our new site we say: "You can't make something out of nothing!" The company, SAWATEC AG once again puts its newly gained insights into action. This means further strengthening common strengths and eliminating the weaknesses. We would like to enter further into the market with our numerous ideas, visions and attractive products. Our greatest priorities are to have clearly presented and precise promotional material as well as the support of a customer-oriented dealer network. With our dedicated team we endeavour to offer a strong price-performance ratio. A further clear advantage to promote customer satisfaction is that SAWATEC AG offers readily available, user-friendly products, which can be delivered quickly, as well as tailored custom designs.

SAWATEC NEWS

We have settled in!

Thanks to the untiring effort of our employees, we relocated to our new premises in Sax in just a matter of days without any hitches. The newly optimized process cycles also play an important role here in SAWATEC AG's day-to-day business. As from the 1st of September 2010 the company, SAWATEC AG, started working directly and actively with the German-speaking customers from the new premises:
